"it will always be possible to make a better pen"

G. S. Parker

For 127 years PARKER has built a company, which has succeeded not only at innovating but also reinventing the market, establishing itself as one of the world's leading Fine Writing brands.

The PARKER story began with the dream of a young visionary entrepreneur who stated that "it will always be possible to make a better pen". George Safford Parker, a 25-year-old part-time fountain pen salesman was dismayed by the unreliability of the pens on the market at that time and in 1888 he started the PARKER story, paving the way for a long line of breakthrough technologies and design innovations.

PARKER's breakthrough technologies started in 1894 when George Safford Parker patented the Lucky Curve, a pen with a pioneering anti-leak ink feed system which revolutionized the market. The 1930's saw a new engineering breakthrough with the Vacumatic, a pen featuring the brand's breakthrough filling system with no ink sac, it held over twice as much ink as other pens of that time. Over a century later, in 2011, PARKER unveiled the Parker 5™ Technology, an innovative writing mode offering an ultra-smooth smart glide tip that adapts to your own writing style to create a beautiful writing experience, a technology unrivaled at the time.

PARKER has an equally long heritage of aesthetic and design innovations, which is best encompassed with masterpieces such as, in the 1920's, the Duofold with its audacious burst of orange, and accordingly named 'Big Red', defied the status quo. In 1939, the Parker 51, was the first pen to take inspiration from the design and engineering of the automobile and aviation industries with its hooded nib and streamline shape, earning it the coveted Academy Award for Best-Design of its time.

In the 1960's, the iconic 'ciselé' pattern was introduced with the Parker 75: this refined chiselled metalwork has since become a brand hallmark. Later, PARKER created the Sonnet and Parker Premier lines that have become design references in PARKER's range with both an elegant and modern allure.

PARKER has a long history of unique know-how which has paved the way for the creation of some of the industry's most memorable and innovative products. One of the most important parts in the making of a PARKER pen is its 'engine' which includes the finely sharpened nib, made from up to 18K solid gold on the higher-end models, and its ink feed system which regulates the flow of the high quality PARKER Quink Ink. Chiseling and engraving techniques are used to decorate nibs, caps and barrels. The beauty of PARKER's meticulously selected materials and precious metals – up to sterling silver or 18K solid gold on the most premium models – is enhanced by manual polishing and other decorative treatments managed by dedicated craftsmen on a large range of fine PARKER pens.

PARKER is a lifelong partner, for those who strive for achievement and write their own story.
